Note: Situated at the edge of south and southeast Asia, the maritime frontier of Burma has never received the attention it deserves from historians, though it served as an important cultural and commercial crossroads connecting all the regions surrounding the Bay of Bengal. This volume brings together a unique array of scholars to explore Burma’s distinctive role in the Indian Ocean world.

Burma : Fiction.

Note: An extraordinary first novel that tells the story of a British piano tuner sent deep into Burma in the nineteenth century. In October 1886, Edgar Drake receives a strange request from the British War Office: he must leave his wife and his quiet life in London to travel to the jungles of Burma, where a rare Erard grand piano is in need of repair. The piano belongs to an army surgeon-major whose unorthodox peacemaking methods - poetry, medicine, and now music - have brought a tentative quiet to the southern Shan region. Edgar meets soldiers, mystics, bandits, and tale-spinners, as well as an enchanting woman as elusive as the Karens, among the Karens / by Mrs. Mason ; edited by L. N. Herbert 345 ; translated from English by Ellen Huntly Bullard ; with maps and text in Thai. – ISBN 9749575490

Note: Den engelske pianostemmer Edgar Drake bliver af Krigsministeriet sendt til Burma, hvor han skal stemme et specielt flygelinde i junglen, hvor lægen Anthony Carroll forsøger at skabe et fredeligt samfund med bl.a. musik

Herbert 201: <This sequel to the author's From Sangha to laity presents a broadly researched account of the campaign for independence. Maung Maung offers a fresh and at times controversial interpretation of events, providing a Burmese perspective that acts as a challenging counterpoint to such key documentary sources as Hugh Tinker's Burmese: the struggle for independence. While using much the same Western sources as Nicholas Tarling's The fourth Anglo-Burmese war and many of Maung Maung's study is more far-ranging and his use of Burmese sources and interviews adds a dimension lacking from Western studies.>

Note: A startling account of an evil regime and one young man's efforts to defy it.

Twenty-eight-year-old James Mawdsley spent much of the past four years in grim Burmese prisons. The Iron Road is his story, and the story of the regime that jailed him, the way it tortures, and kills hundreds of Burmese each day. - Mawdsley was working in New Zealand when he learned about the struggle of Daw Aung San Suu Kyi, the Burmese Nobel laureate who is under house arrest. Outraged, he went to Burma, staged a one-man protest, and was jailed. - There his own amazing story begins. He is a twenty-eight-year-old New Zealander who is a keen researcher into  human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen activist for an end to human rights abuses in Burma and is a keen

Down the rat hole : adventures underground on the Burma frontier / by Edith Mirante. – Bangkok: Orchid Pr., 2005. [X] 199 p., 3 colour plates, 3 maps, gloss. p. [187]-188.

ISBN 974-524-050-8

Note: A memoir of the author's journeys among the brave indigenous peoples of some of Asia's most remote and violent regions, Knowledgeably obsessed with Burma's struggle for freedom. American artist-activist Mirante breaks laws and infiltrates borders in impassioned journeys of discovery that take her through China, India, Laos, and chaotic Bangladesh. Her book is a wild and exotic headlong plunge into a hidden world of guerrilla warfare, heroin and jade trading, the AIDS pandemic, rainforest destruction, strikes and rioting, and one of the worst natural disasters of modern times.

Note: A spectacular panoramic view of the lives of the Buddhist faithful of Burma, as revealed by award-winning Burmese photographer Moe Min. Through images of Buddhist rituals, both moments of solitary worship and joyous festivals, as well as of temples, shrines and sacred images, the viewer is introduced to the lives of the lay practitioners and monks of this deeply religious land. With magnificent images of world-renowned sites such as Pagan and the Shwedagon, as well as of remote locations rarely reached by the foreign visitor, this book is essential both for those who are well acquainted with this ancient, picturesque land and for those who are not, but wish to be.
